

Daily Devotion For April 30, 2021

There is a time for everything." Ecclesiastes 3:1

Wow, how time flies! Today is the last day of the month of April. One third of the year has flown by. I think as we grow older, some people may wonder, "where has the time gone?"

In Ecclesiastes 3:1, Solomon writes, There is a time for everything." Each day we are given time from God to attend to the things in life that truly matter. What is that for you. Your family, your faith, your friends???

So as you look back at the first four months of 2021 and look ahead to the remainder of the year, how does God want you to use your time? What does God want you to do today, April 30, 2021? There are great answers to that question throughout the pages of scripture.

God's ultimate answer to that question is found in 2 Corinthians 6:2, "Now is the time of God's favor, now is the day of salvation." The nature of this present moment is that it is filled with the possibility of experiencing the redeeming grace of God. God's love and mercy are new every morning.

Thought For Today: If you are a Christian, thank God for your salvation. If not, what better time to ask Jesus to come into your life to be your Savior and Lord. God is calling you into a saving relationship with Him through faith in Jesus.

Today's Prayer Focus: Thank God for your salvation. Pray for the salvation of an unsaved family member or friend. Continue to pray this week's prayer fuel. Deo Volente.
