

Daily Devotion For September 13, 2021

Are you ready for some footbaaall!!! Those were familiar words for Monday Night Football fans from 1989 to 2011 when Hank Williams Jr. wrote them in his introductory song to kick off each Monday night game.

This week, the NFL kicked off a new season and I'm glad to report that the San Francisco 49er's opening game was a successful 41 to 33 victory over the Detroit Lions.

This may seem rather basic, but in football there are two teams. Each team has an opponent, coaches, a goal and a group of fans or cheerleaders. The same can be said of our Christian lives. We as believers are a team. We must work together to win. We have an opponent whose name is the Devil, Satan, or the Adversary who is doing everything he can to keep us from reaching our goal. Rather than touchdowns, our goal is to bring others to salvation and to help them train for godliness as fully devoted disciples and followers of Jesus Christ.

Thought For Today: What kind of team player are you? Who on the El Estero Church team can you encourage or cheer for this week? Who is cheering for you? What lessons have you learned from sports that can help you in life?

Today's Prayer Focus: Take time today to pray for the El Estero Church team. Pray that each member of our team would be defeating our opponent Satan and that we will win our daily victories over him through faith in Jesus Christ. Continue to pray this week's updated prayer fuel. Deo Volente.
