“Pray without ceasing.” I Thessalonians 5:17

Yesterday, I received an email from Mary Ichiuji asking me to add her daughter Danielle to the Friday Night Prayer meeting prayer fuel. Danielle is in Tokyo now and they just experienced a magnitude 6.1 earthquake. We were happy to pray for Danielle last night and the people of Japan. Thank God, no one lost their lives. I wonder when do you take the time to pray? Do you have a morning devotional time? Do you pray before you go to bed? Do you pray during your meal times? The apostle Paul wrote in I Thessalonians 5:17 to “pray without ceasing.”

Today, consider every moment as a potential time of communion with God. Did you know that by the time your life is over, you will have spent six months at stoplights, eight months opening junk mail, a year and a half looking for lost stuff and a whopping five years standing in various lines.

Why don't you give these moments to God? By giving God your whispering thoughts, the common becomes uncommon. When you are driving to thank God for his leading and guidance in your life. When you are at the Grocery store thanking God for his provisions of food. When you are at the pharmacy to thank God for health and strength? When you are in your garden to thank God for His creation. Take time each day to pray just where you are.

Thought For Today: Wherever you are today, make it an opportunity for prayer. Be creative in your prayer life, whether at home or outside the home, what can you be praying each moment of the day.

Today's Prayer Focus: Make it a point today to Pray wherever you are. Pray for Danielle and the Tokyo earthquake. Review the updated prayer fuel for the week and may it add fuel to your daily prayers. Deo Volente.
