

Daily Devotion For December 27, 2021

But the LORD God called to the man, "Where are you?" He answered, "I heard you in the garden, and I was afraid because I was naked; so I hid." And he said, "Who told you that you were naked? Have you eaten from the tree that I commanded you not to eat from?" Genesis 3:9

I heard this week from friends who were traveling and had gotten lost. Have you ever had the experience of being lost and having to call someone for directions? What is the first question they would ask? "Where are you?" Before they can tell you how to get there, they need to know where you are.

God asked that very question of Adam in the Garden of Eden. After Adam ate from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, sin entered the world. As a result of that Adam hid. Soon, the Lord came walking through the garden in the cool of the day, and He called out to Adam, "Where are you?"

Of course God knew where Adam was because God knows all things. But in effect, God was saying, "Well, Adam, you ate of the forbidden fruit. How did that go? Are you happy with the way things turned out?"

Thought For Today: I think the Lord could ask the same of us today: Where are you? How is your life going? Is this the way you hoped it would turn out? If you are feeling lost today, call upon the name of the Lord who came to seek and to save those who are lost, (Luke 19:10)

Today's Prayer Focus: Thank God that he knows all things and knows where you are today. He can give you the wisdom and guidance to get to your destination safely. Take time to review this week's updated prayer fuel. Deo Volente.
