

Daily Devotion For September 8, 2022

“Why, you do not even know what will happen tomorrow. What is your life? You are a mist that appears for a little while and then vanishes.” James 4:14

The above scripture verse from the book of James tells us life is like a vapor, here one moment and gone the next.

Tuesday evening around 10:30 p.m. I received an email from Anne Wilbur sharing with me that her brother-in-law Alan Duran (Sally’s Husband) just returned from a trip to Africa and was taken immediately to the ER at Stanford Medical Center where he was having difficulty breathing.

We saw Bob McIntyre at church on Sunday, but that evening he was having abdominal pain and went to CHOMP at 3 in the morning. I guess we never know what may happen to us tomorrow.

Thought For Today: All this brings to mind, are you making moments matter? Are you living each day to its fullest? If life is truly just a vapor, treasure every moment you have.

Today’s Prayer Focus: Thank God for every beat of your heart, every blink of your eyes and every breath in your lungs. Thank God for the life He has given you. Please remember Alan Duran in your thoughts and prayers. Continue to pray for Bob McIntyre who had a successful surgery on Tuesday. Deo Volente.
